Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Practically half of Kenyans, about 21.5 million people, are poor. Ensuring citizens have an income is the single most effective means of transforming lives and reducing deep-rooted poverty and inequality. Regrettably, lack of income opportunities has become such a huge challenge in Kenya. Many Kenyans leave school hoping to find work or start a viable business to participate in economic building, but for the last three decades income opportunities have not been forthcoming. Statistics on joblessness and inactivity indicate that over 40 per cent Kenyans are without stable incomes. The joblessness and idleness crisis in Kenya, however, is just a symptom of something worse - relatedness. Relatedness is the most significant constraint on the capacity of the Kenyan economy to grow and to create enough opportunities to accommodate the ever-increasing number of school-leavers (and school drop-outs). Just about 10 million Kenyans of the working age are not gainfully engaged. The country needs to deliver at least 1,000,000 job opportunities every year for several years to serve the increasing number of jobless college graduates. Despite this, Kenya only manages...
